'Morning Dew' is Moonray's debut track on Monomyth and is taken from a wider body of work commissioned by Brighter Sound in Manchester. 'Viriditas' is an experimental ambient EP which deals with inner growth and spirituality. The global pandemic has prompted a great deal of soul searching and an abundance of downtime, time to pause, study and participate in rituals connecting with nature and the cycles that many of us have disconnected from within the hectic paced lives we had lead previously. Moonray has read a great deal and connected with history, religion, spirituality and philosophy. She says 'I have read a lot about the goddess and connected with my routes and ancestors. This piece represents that growth and finalises the EP on a high note. Meaning that from any dark place, you will always emerge much stronger and back into the light'.

Sonically, 'Morning Dew' harks back to titans of the experimental electronic scene such as Cocteau Twins and This Mortal Coil.

The vocal performance of Victoria Murray is haunting and mournful in an uplifting and cleansing way.

The 'Viriditas' EP will be released through Monomyth Records on the 28th of May 2021.
