SOCIALS & CONTACT

Purple Thread are a 4 piece rock n' roll band based in Leeds known for their eclectic brand of blues infused guitar pop. Front woman Liz Mann has an energetic and captivating stage persona evoking memories of early Debbie Harry and Patti Smith. This second release on Monomyth Records builds on the garage punk aesthetic developed by the band while keeping just the right amount of pop goodness. This track isn't afraid to borrow lovingly from the cannon of past cultural tropes whilst adding that distinctive Purple Thread vibe.

"Back To NYC is not just another love song to New York City. With a high-heeled, devil-may-care attitude, the song is an exploration into the depths of raw, feminine empowerment at its grittiest and most seductive. Charged with fuzzed out guitars, a thundering shuffle beat and with a sheen of shimmering organ tones, the song launches itself into a orchestrated chaos with heartfelt attitude'.PT

'Sometimes you can hear a record and know the band behind it are going to be big. Maybe not right this second, maybe not in a few weeks' time, but soon enough they'll blow up big style. Purple Thread have that record, and Purple Thread on this power-pop path are the band to do just that'. (To The Local)
